1. Scope

The Charitable Objective of the Palmerston Forts Society (PFS) is “The advancement of the education of the public in the history of Fort Nelson and other Victorian fortifications. In particular by supporting and assisting the improvement of the fortifications for the public benefit.”

In furtherance of this objective, the PFS are making available a number of financial grants for projects related to the preservation, conservation, protection and recording of Victorian Forts in the public interest. The value of these individual grants will be up to £1000 each

It is expected that the recipients of these grants will be societies, trusts and other organisations which support or operate Victorian forts for the public good.

The deliverables of the project should be tangible - restoration, education, publication, interpretation - and priority will be given to projects where the deliverables are clearly sustainable.

Projects where the principle focus is on research are covered by a separate scheme – PFS Research Grants (details on the PFS website)

Applications for grants will be considered on their merits and funding will be granted on a one-off basis. The decision to award or not award a grant is entirely at the discretion of the PFS and the PFS are not required to give reasons for any decisions. Projects will be selected by a sub-committee of the PFS committee and their recommendations validated by a quorum of the committee.

There is no limit to the number of applications that can be made by any group or society but no more than one grant per group will be approved in any year and subsequent grants will always be contingent on the group complying with the “Essential Criteria”.

2. What We Might Fund

Here is a list of the type of projects which the PFS will consider funding. This list is not exhaustive and the funding decision is always subject to PFS discretion.

- Specific projects to preserve or make available to the public fortifications or fortification artefacts falling within the scope the aims of the PFS.
- Site-based survey work e.g. geophysical, architectural, topographical, LIDAR, drone photography etc.
- Scientific tests on objects/materials from a fortification site e.g. paint analysis, metallurgy tests.
- Interpretation media, including publications, reconstruction graphics, interpretation materials etc.
- Funding of preservation, conservation and replacement works principally of fixed assets of the fortification. This includes restoration of the fabric of the fortification, original or replica armament, ammunition and ancillaries, furniture and fittings etc.
- Planning consultant advice to contest / comment on planning applications which may impinge on the structure or setting of a work of fortification.
- Specialist training required to further the objectives of your society / group including DBS checks.
- Specialist advice / reports on fortifications e.g. Structural Engineer, Conservation Architect, Archaeologist. As part of an application for Planning Permission and/or Listed Building consent etc.

- Funding for specific cost related to the creation of business plans for the development of fortifications for the public good.

3. What we are Unlikely to Fund

Here is a list of the sort of projects that we are unlikely to fund. This list is not exhaustive and the funding decision is always subject to PFS discretion.

The Applicant will give the PFS the unlimited right to use such images and documentation in publications or electronic media.

Compliance upon completion

The Applicant must provide evidence to the PFS that the project or actions have been carried out in an appropriate way.
